GIVING AID IS BEST RELIGION

CHRISTIAN HAS EARS TRAINED FOR CRIES FOR HELP.

"ENJOY GOD'S RICHES"

Rev. R. A .Mitchell Delivers Thanksgiving Message at First Christian Church Wednesday Evening.

"Inasmuch as ye did it unto the least of these——" is a Thanksgiving message applicable to all races of all times, the Rev. R. A. Mitchell, pastor of the M. E. Church, South, told those at the union Thanksgiving services at the First Christian Church here Wednesday night.

The real Christian, the minister insisted, has his ears trained to hear the feeble cries for help that come from the hearts of men everywhere.

"Our character must be such that we will get off our beasts and bind their wounds and see that they find a place of refuge where they may have the care they so sorely needed," the minister continued. "That is the essence and spirit of the Christian religion."

A religion, not only timely at the Thanksgiving season but throughout the year, was lived by the Psalmist of old, who had rich experiences with all classes of persons but never lost his faith in God, the minister pointed out.

"This famous Biblical character is endeavoring to tell you and me what it is like to be a friend of God," he continued. "In order to do this, he recalls things he has seen that he may use them as witnesses to his wonderful experiences.

"If there is anything I might ask which we all might enjoy this Thanksgiving season, it is that we might enjow more fully the riches of grace and mercy and forgiveness of which we are all heirs in Christ Jesus."

Marvelous inventions that make neighbors of the nations of the world, digging from the earth material things, harnessing the lightning, mastering the air or conquering the sea—these are not when persons are most like God, the Rev. Mr. Mitchell reminded his audience. To love one another, and help all along life's way, making the journey as easy as possible—this is most Godlike, he said.

Public Library to Be Closed Until Monday

New Stacks Have Arrived And All Books Must Be Moved And Rearranged.

The public library will be closed until Monday, Miss Grace Langan, librarian, announced this morning. This is necessary, as all of the books in the library are being moved and rearranged to make room for new stacks which have arrived.

These stacks will be placed on either side of the stack room. They cost $296 and were paid for by the library fund.

Miss Langan said today that the stacks have been needed for some time, as there has been no room for new books. With the added facilities, books will begin to arrive in the near future.

It has been two years since additions have been made to the stacking facilities of the library.

TAX PAYMENT COMING WELL

IS BETTER THAN IN PAST SAYS TOWNSHIP COLLECTOR.

10 PER CENT NOW IN

Emmett Bartram Makes Ruling On Those Who Wish To Get Receipts Without Waiting.

The payment of township, county, and state taxes is progressing more rapidly this year than in the past, according to Emmett Bartram, collector for Polk Township. At noon today almost 10 per cent of the taxes for this year had been paid.

"This is a better record than last year or several years before," Mr. Bartram commented. "The people dread the rush which always attends the last of the year, and they are paying more rapidly now. At this time last year only about $10,000 had been collected."

Mr. Bartram estimated this noon that the amount of money in to date is around $16,500.

January 1 is the deadline for the payment of taxes. After then there is a penalty of 1 per cent each month that the payment is delinquent. If the taxes on property are not paid in five years, court action can be taken to get them. In the case of personal taxes, if they are not paid by March 1, action can be taken.

"We have so many people who come into the office and are in a hurry that we have ruled that all people, who wish to get their tax receipts without delay can telephone or write us concerning their taxes, and we will have the receipts ready for them when they call at the office," the collector said.

The total amount of taxes for this year is $163,680.40. Of this amount, $26,928.63 is personal tax, and $136,751.77 is property tax. The total Maryville taxes is $86,457.65.

In addition to the taxes already collected, Mr. Bartram said receipts had been made out for some $4,000, which is to be paid later.

CORN SHOW IS ON DEC. 18-19

EXHIBITS AUCTIONED

Entries To Be Judged On First Day By C. E. Carter, Missouri College Of Agriculture.

The Nodaway County Corn Show will be held in Maryville on Friday and Saturday, December 18 and 19, J. Ross Fleetwood, county extension agent, announced today. The place where the show will be held has not yet been determined. It will be furnished by the Maryville Chamber of Commerce.

Entrants in the show are those who signified their intention last spring to develop a five-acre field for the project. Thirty-one persons will have corn in the exhibit. Prizes will be given for the best two bushels, the best ten ears, and the best single ear.

The corn will be judged by C. E. Carter, of the field crops department of the Missouri College of Agriculture. Mr. Carter will judge the corn on Friday, and on Saturday he will give a talk on corn. Immediately following this talk, the corn entered in the show will be sold at public auction, the proceeds to go for prize money.

The Missouri Corn Growers Association has offered a gold medal to the winner of the best two-bushel yield. This medal is now at the Nodaway County Farm Bureau office.

In judging the corn, 40 per cent will be given on the yield and 60 per cent on the quality.

The object of the corn show, according to Mr. Fleetwood, is to stimulate a greater interest in more economical corn growing and to raise the standard of corn production in the county by a more wide-spread production of increased amounts of high-grade seed, and by providing means by which this seed will find its way into general use throughout the county.

Those who will have corn entered in the show are:

S. F. Hayzlett, T. H. Acklin, Fred Kemper, and R. E. Geyer, Graham; Everett Gray, Stanford Pence, George and Sam Ripley, and Henry M. Crane, Clearmont; James Parshall and J. Ralph Pope, Skidmore; C. Vert, William Bracken, D. D. Belt, and Walter Davis, all of Maryville.

All entries must be in Maryville by December 17.

Local Welfare Board Answers Many Calls

Report Of Work Of Organization Is Given By Hal T. Hooker At Union Services Wednesday.

A report of the work of the welfare board was given by the president, Hal T. Hooker, at the union Thanksgiving services at the Christian Church Wednesday night.

Mr. Hooker reported about $149 in the treasury at the present time, with a number of outstanding bills unpaid.

Several calls have been received since October 1, he said, and have been for fuel, food and clothing.

Mr. Hooker called the attention of the audience to several instances where aid is needed. Last year, 110 calls for help were received and expenditures totalled $998. Forty-five tons of coal were purchased and the balance was spent for food and clothing.

An offering for the welfare board was taken at the union service and totaled $33.

As part of their program for the year, three rural community clubs have aided the local welfare board in its work since October 1. The Rockford Community Club, the Barnard Progressive Club and the Knabb Country Club have made donations to the welfare board.

$841 DAMAGES TO BE ASKED

COUNTY ENGINEER REPORTS ON PROPOSED NEW ROAD.

OTHER EXPENSE $150

3-4 Mile Project Southeast of Maryville Would Shorten Distance to Bedison.

Damages of $841.69 will be asked by the owners of the land needed for the proposed new road between part of the sections 3 and 4 in township 64 and range 35 and part of sections 2 and 3 in township 63.

The proposed new road is southeast of Maryville and would eliminate a jog and about a half mile of the length of one of the roads leading from Maryville to Bedison. It was requested in a petition filed with the County Court by Henry Heitman and others, and County Engineer George S. Miller was instructed to make a survey on the probable expense of the undertaking.

The report of the county engineer states that Edward E. Williams will ask $151.69 for a strip of land 20 feet wide and 80¼ rods in length and that the E. J. Williams estate will ask $690 for three strips 20 feet wide, two of them 80¼ rods in length and the other 63½ rods. The road is to be 40 feet wide.

In addition to the land required, the county engineer estimates that grading will cost $100 and culverts $50.

The road now follows the line between sections 3 and 4 for a half mide, then turns west for a quarter of a mile and then south again for three-fourths of a mile, after which it turns east again to the section line. The proposal before the county court is that the road follow the section line straight south, eliminating the quarter mile jog and requiring three-fourths of a mile new road.

He is expected to retain the portfolio of minister of foreign affairs in his own cabinet, probably later retiring from the premiership in order to devote all of his time to foreign affairs. The critical post in the Briand cabinet will be the minister of finance.

GOVERNMENT COSTS MORE

TOTAL BILL TO TAXPAYERS IS ABOUT TEN BILLION.

FEDERAL BILL MOUNTS

Nation-Wide Effort To Be Made for Elimination of Waste—Local Leaks Are Largest.

Washington, Nov. 27.—American taxpayers will contribute, directly or indirectly, close to ten billion dollars to the support of the federal, state, county and municipal governments in the year ending next June, according to estimates compiled by treasury experts today.

This enormous amount constitutes what is commonly called the nation's tax bill. Treasury figures disclosed the federal government will cost the people approximately $3,500,000,000, exclusive of postal expenses, for the year.

President Coolidge has asked the federal departments to keep within the limit of $3,375,000,000, but it was learned today that in spite of the economy policy, operation of the government will cost slightly over that figure.

The federal expenses account for about a third of the total cost of all governments. High officials are turning to the states and cities for cooperation in the general drive against waste. A material chop at government operating costs will be a vital assistance in the campaign of the administration in bringing about a more scientific conduct of all business, but most of the relief will have to come from local sources, as will be pointed out in the President's message.

Germany Adopts Pacts of Border Securities

Ratification Puts End To One Of Bitterest Political Battles In History Of German Republic.

Berlin, Nov. 27.—The German Reichstag today, after a bitter fight, ratified the Locarno securities pacts. The Reichstag passed an enabling bill providing for the German signature to the Locarno pacts.

The ratification puts an end to one of the bitterest political fights Germany has had since the creation of a republic.

Chancellor Luther and his cabinet are expected to resign immediately after the pacts are signed, having agreed to this course as the price of Reichstag support of strong factions who are anxious for the formation of a new ministry.

The Reichstag defeated a nationalist proposal demanding the enactment of a special law to provide for Germany's entrance into the League of Nations.

MOTHER QUEEN WITH MIGHTY

BUT TOMB WILL NOT BE LONG IN FAMOUS ABBEY.

PUBLIC PAYS TRIBUTE

European Royalty Follows Coffin To Funeral Hall Amid Cold And Snow —Huge Throng Present.

London, Nov. 27.—The requiem over, Queen Alexandra rests with Britain's mighty dead in Westminster Abbey, but not for long. The queen's tomb will be in the solemn splendor of St. George's chapel, Windsor Castle. There the coffin will be carried just before daybreak tomorrow morning.

The public tribute was paid in the Abbey this morning and the services were conducted by the archbishop of Canterberry. This marked the first part of the public tribute but was the most heart felt.

When the solemn ceremony was over, the Abbey was thrown open to the public. Then began the solemn file of people past the coffin, which had been followed to Westminster Abbey by King George and three neighboring Kings, those from Norway, Denmark and Belgium. Then followed the crown prince of Roumania, the Prince of Wales, the crown prince of Sweden and hundreds of royal blood.

From midnight onward, braving a stiff north wind, men and women gathered about Westminster Abbey and in White Hall. As the funeral cortege left St. James' palace, snow began falling.

Hospital corpsmen were busy attending those overcome by the cold.

Pay of Some Employes of State Is Held Up

Those on "Civil List" May Have To Wait To Get Pay For This And Next Month.

Jefferson City, Nov. 27.—State employes on what is known as the "civil list" may have to wait until January 1 for their November and December salaries.

Although there is approximately twelve million dollars in the state treasury, there is only a balance of a few thousand dollars in the general revenue fund, from which such employes are paid. Unless there are early remittances from some of the big revenue collectors, salary payments are doubtful.

NEW ASSULT ON MITCHELL

DEPARTMENT WOULD PROVE STRONG HAWAIIAN DEFENSE.

ATTACK HIS COUNSEL

Washington, Nov. 27.—The Mitchell court martial almost broke up in a row this afternoon when Brig.-Gen. Edward L. King, one of the jury of generals comprising the court, characterized the methods used by Representative Reid, Republican of Illinois, head of Mitchell's counsel, in examining war department witnesses as d——d rot."

General King's remark was made to another member of the court and aroused Reid to flaming anger. The apologies which followed did not restore peace and Maj.-Gen. Robert Howze, president of the court, adjourned the session until Monday morning.

The incident may have an important bearing on the outcome of the case for its equivalent in civil law would be a juror expressing an opinion while a case was in progress.

Washington, Nov. 27.—The tables turned, the war department began beating back against the charges of inefficiency and "almost treasonable" neglect of the national defense, made by Col. William Mitchell.

Soon after the colonel's court martial opened today, the department offered, through Mitchell's prosecutors, the so-called secret technical plan for the defense of Hawaii. This move was designed to countervert Mitchell's charges that Hawaii was undefended and neglected by the general staff.

The first witness called, technically in rebuttal to Mitchell's defense testimony, was Brig.-Gen. Leroy Eltinge, former general staff officer in charge of war plans.

While he was on the stand, the Hawaiian plan was offered as evidence. The document was examined by the court but was not made public.

Eltinge's preliminary testimony dealt with technical military subjects.

Representative Reid, Mitchell's attorney, constantly objected, demanding introduction of documents to support every statement made by the witness.

To Aid Prosecutor in Enforcing Game Laws

Attorney-General Gentry Will Assist Benton County Attorney In Case Against Two Hunters.

Jefferson City, Nov. 27.—Attorney-General Gentry today announced that he would go to Benton County next month to assist the county attorney in the prosecution of two men who refused to show their game to a deputy game warden. The men will be prosecuted under that section of the law which requires a hunter to exhibit his game to a game warden.

The men were arrested because they had refused to show quail they had killed November 10, the opening day of the quail season.

Governor Baker requested the attorney-general to give his personal attention to the case after Keith McCanse, state game warden, had asked aid for the prosecution.

Intrigue in Society to Figure in Debate

BY CHARLES P. STEWART.
NEA Service Writer.

Washington—Intrigue in high society will figure in Congressional debate this winter. Thus:

Count Karolyi played a prominent part in overthrowing monarchism in Hungary. In turn, he was driven into exile when Admiral Horthy got the upper hand and set up in Budapest a despotism of his own, nominally as "regent;" really as almost absolute ruler. Naturally Horthy, the virtual czar, disapproves of Karolyi, the republican.

In exile, Countess Karolyi wanted to lecture in the United States. Many prominent American society women sponsored her. The government raised no objection. She fell ill here. The count wanted to come to her. At this Secretary Hughes, then State Department head, balked. Finally he let the count come, on his pledge not to talk while in this country.

The countess recovered. She and the count returned to Europe. Recently the countess accepted an invitation to spend a few weeks at the home of R. B. Strassburger, rich Norristown, Pa., publisher. This time Secretary of State Kellogg refused to let her into the United States, whether she talked or not. Protests, by Strassburger and others, availed nothing. The countess appealed to the American society women who had indorsed her before. Now, peculiarly, they ignored her.

The explanation the State Department's Congressional critics will try to develop is this:

That Horthy's seeming influence with the department is not political but social; and that he exercises it through his minister in Washington, Count Szecheny and the latter's wife, who was Gladys Vanderbilt.

There you have it—if the critics are right—the Vanderbilts' social prestige!—and millions!

They never show movie comedies in England on Saturday night; it might cause laughter in the churches Sunday.—Paris News.

Football Season Ends as Both Maryville Teams Are Victorious

The football season is over.

Yesterday the town of Maryville lived football, breathed football, radiated football. Today, local fandom, fickle that it is, has turned from the gridiron and is already discussing basketball, the winter sport.

The football season ended as good football seasons should end, with a victory for both home teams. In the morning, on the home field, the High School Spoofhounds humbled the touted Excelsior Springs eleven in a 26-to-6 game, and in the afternoon on the Tarkio gridiron the State Teachers College Bearcats trampled rough-shod over their traditional rivals, the Tarks, in a funeral march which was played in 42-15 time.

Excelsior Springs came to Maryville prepared to win a football game. Local sport followers conceded the fact that the affair would be a battle. No one thought that the locals would win so handily. But they did.

And they won for one reason. They played as a team and not as eleven individuals. Of course there were stars. That is, there were those who went through the line for long gains, or swept the ends for heavy yardage. To these much praise was given. But there were also those who did yoeman service in preparing the way for these ball carriers. There were the linemen who opened the holes through which the long gains were made, and there were the backs who spiked so viciously on the end runs.

Maryville played offensively all the while. The twenty-six first downs which the Spoofhounds annexed bear witness to the fact. But five times was the Excelsior Springs team able to make yardage.

The lone counter for the visitors came on a triple pass shortly after the beginning of the second half. Cook, the little 16-year-old mainstay of the visitors, took a pass on his own left end and raced twelve yards for a marker. The try for point was blocked.

The Excelsior score might represent the gift of a generous victor to a valiant opponent. The visitors were just outplayed all the time. Maryville weakened once and Cook scored. Then the locals tightened and continued with their first-down drives.

The stars of Centerville, Cockayne and the sturdy work of "Sticky" Bratcher stand out as luminous, but not much more so than the consistent plunging of Kissinger and the determined playing of Buster Strong. In the line they all played well. Gene Howard was a power, but Curfman and Hall and Alsup were there all the time.

The game was late in starting, thirty minutes so. This was inconvenient for all, but it was forgotten in the victory of a well-played, justly-deserved game.

Twice Bratcher scored for Maryville and once each Kissinger and Cockayne went over the goal line. Kissinger and Strong each added a point after touchdown.

In the waning minutes of the contest, Maryville missed a chance to score a fifth touchdown when Kissinger fumbled over the goal line and Cook recovered for the Springs on the 1-yard line.

The game ended shortly before one o'clock. Immediately the exodus for Tarkio started. A steady stream of automobiles moved toward the Atchison County town to see the annual battle of the Bearcat and the Tark, and by game time several hundred were present.

This funeral march, mentioned before, marked the second time in the history of the Tarkio school that a Thanksgiving game has been lost at home. From one standpoint, and one other than the score, in fact, it was a battle. The Tarks fought as they have not fought before this season. They played to win, but they lost.

In the losing, however, they were not humiliated. Their fight lasted to the final gun, and it was clean all the way. Their only penalty, 5 yards, was for an off-side.

It was in 42-15 time, and "Weenie" Willoughby played first violin. Around the bare legs and sturdy shoulders of the little Maryville quarterback, the victory revolved. He played better football than Maryville fans have ever seen him play. How his legs would churn as he refused to be stopped. How he still advanced with the ball when burdened with as many as three tacklers. How he slipped, recovered, dodged, squirmed, side-stepped, and wriggled. Yes, it was Weenie's game.

But the victory is not wholly his. What could he have done without Eads, O'Banion, Search, England, Miller, and Berst? It was another instance of eleven men playing as a team.

In the first six minutes of the game Maryville scored twice. Rather Eads scored twice. The Maryville halfback went around one end one minute, and around the other another minute. Then in ten seconds he kicked two goals from placement for the point after marker.

Scoring honors were shared with Search, who also went over twice. Once he circled right end in such a convincing manner that thirty-three yards were as nothing between him and the goal. Again "Ikey" kicked, in fact, the Trenton boy booted successfully each time after the six touchdowns.

The other Berst touchdown came as the Omega of the neatest fake play that Maryville fans have seen this year. It was fourth down. The ball was on the Tarkio 5-yard line. Three line bucks had failed. The Bearcats huddled in signals. For more than a minute they huddled.

"Let 'Ikey' kick," voiced the crowd. Would "Ikey" kick? Assuredly he should. But why do they huddle so long? At last they break. It is to be a kick. Eads is in position. Willoughby is prone, ready to take Graham's pass. The ball is snapped to the recumbent quarterback and he places it on the tee. Yes "Ikey" is going to kick.

But what has happened? What is the matter with Willoughby? He has tossed the ball into the hands of the toe-sure halfback even as the latter was in the act of kicking. And then, keep by Tarkio, a pass by Eads, and a perfect catch over the goal line by Search who has been waiting there, unattended, for seconds.

O'Banion and Willoughby each added a point to the score at other times during the game. Both came after clever runs.

Tarkio scored twice and Melcher kicked once for the extra point. The first Tark touchdown was a pure-and-simple fluke. Eads attempted a pass. Barton batted it and caught it five yards nearer his own goal. The field was open ahead of him.

The other touchdown came after the first half ended. The ball was in the air on a pass to White as the gun went off. No one attempted to interfere with the catch.

The other two points came later in the game when O'Banion's punt was blocked and he recovered the ball behind his own goal line.

Tarkio used a passing offense. Six flips were completed for 83 yards, nineteen were incomplete, and two were intercepted. Maryville completed three passes out of eight for 33 yards.

The Bearcats led in first downs, 13 to 8; and in yards from scrimmage, 245 to 45. They were penalized 35 yards while the Tarks were set back but 15 feet.

The line-ups for the two games:

GET RID OF THAT BACKACHE!

Maryville People Point the Way.

The constant aching of a bad back, the weariness, the tired feeling, headaches, dizziness, nervousness, distressing urinary disorders—are often signs of failing kidneys and too serious to be neglected. Get rid of these troubles! Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Hosts of people recommend Doan's. This is a Maryville case. You can verify it.

John Colwell, retired farmer, 404 S. Walnut St., says: "I was bothered with a dull aching across my kidneys and when I stooped sharp catches took me through the small of my back. A steady hurting in my back made me feel tired most of the time. I also had dizzy spells when little spots floated before my eyes. Doan's Pills soon relieved me. I still use Doan's occasionally and they always help me."

WAS NOT FIT TO DO HER WORK

Dreadful Condition of Mrs. Fullerton's Health Remedied by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Clearfield, Pa.—"I cannot begin to tell you how much Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped me in every way. Before taking it I couldn't stand on my feet without pains running all through my whole body from my waist down, just like threads pulling. I was not fit to do any work. My mother got me to try the Vegetable Compound and I have found great benefit, and I not only recommend it for such troubles, but to build up the whole system. I have used it for most everything that ever went wrong with me. When I began to feel nervous and irritable I lost no time in getting a bottle of the Vegetable Compound and if I haven't got one in the house. It gives a fine appetite and makes a new woman of me. You may use this testimonial in my own town or anywhere else, and I will answer every letter I receive."—Mrs. Peter Fullerton, 523 S. 2nd Street, Clearfield, Pa.

If you are suffering from nervous troubles, irritability, give the Vegetable Compound a fair trial. For sale by druggists everywhere.

Never say "oats" —say Quick Quaker

Get that toasty Scotch flavor; that famous Quaker flavor

ABOVE all things, it's flavor you want in oats. There is a world of difference. Originally a Scotch dish, it must have a Scotch flavor to be right.

Has that toasty Scotch tang . . . the famous Quaker flavor . . . no other brand has.

First spoonful tells the difference. It's due to exclusive Quaker milling of finest, plumpest oats. A flavor it took some 50 years to perfect.

Quick Quaker cooks in 3 to 5 minutes. That's faster than toast!

Due to Quaker milling methods, it supplies, too, the "roughage" you need to make laxatives seldom necessary.

2 Kinds — The Quaker Oats you have always known and Quick Quaker—cooks in 3 to 5 minutes

TONE QUALITY

TONE QUALITY is the one absolutely essential thing that a radio receiver must possess. A radio that brings in distant stations and that cuts out all interference, is greatly to be desired. But—if the music it does bring in is twisted and tortured into unrecognizable noise, the radio is a confounded nuisance and should be stored away in the attic with other relics of the past.

Today the great demand is for clear, sweet music and natural speech. We can supply that demand with the new Freed-Eisemann Radio Receivers—noted for their pure tonal quality. It is a pleasure for us to demonstrate them and it will be a pleasure for you to listen to them. Arrange with us for a demonstration. And now one point more—they're considered by old time radio enthusiasts to be the last word in distance and selectivity.

The Origin of the Clearing House

The story is that in the 17th Century London banks daily sent their boys around to other banks to collect cash, drafts, etc., which arouse out of business.

Two of these boys met in a coffee house. They ate too long and were late. So they exchanged packages, and, by happy chance, each had collections for the other's bank. Out of this grew the London Clearing House, the first in the world.

Since then the clearing house—we are a member—has developed to be a most efficient modern method of expediting business. You use it almost every time you write a check.

Forty-Eight Bishops In M. E. Church, South And Youngest Was Charles B. Galloway.

The following is the second of a series of articles on the various church denominations—their history, work, etc. Today's article is written by the Rev. R. A. Mitchell, pastor of the M. E. Church, South, and tells of that denomination.

"Tall oaks from little acorns grow." We pause for a moment while we make this application to the growth of Methodism during the last century and a half. It is now approximately a little over 150 years since John Wesley held the first Methodist Conference in Philadelphia, in June, 1773. The minutes of the Conference covered only one printed page. There were only six "charges," and they in five states. There were only ten preachers, and 1,160 members.

It is a far day until now, but the acorn has grown until there are many branches of the giant oak. Prior to the year of 1844, Methodism was a united body. It was in the above year that the Southern branch of the church came into being because of a resolution presented to the Conference requesting that Bishop Andrews "desist from the exercise of this office" so long as he was connected with slavery. Without the privelege of trial, the resolution passed the General Conference. The Missouri delegation voting against the resolution. The following day of the Conference a resolution was submitted and passed which reads, in part, as follows: "The Southern General Conference shall comprehend the States of Virginia, Kentucky and Missouri, and the States and Territories lying southerly thereto, and also the Republic of Texas, to be known and designated by the title of the 'Southern General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church of the United States.'"

Since the division of the church in 1844 there have been 48 bishops in the M. E. Church, South. The Bishops of the first General Conference were Bishops Joshua Soule and J. O. Andrews. Delegates to the conference from Missouri were: Andrew Monroe, Jesse Green, John Glanville, Wesley Browning, William Patton, John H. Linn, Joseph Boyle and Thomas Johnson.

The youngest man ever elected to the office of Bishop was Charles B. Galloway, who was elected at the General Conference in Richmond, Va., in 1886 at the age of 36. The oldest living Bishop is E. R. Hendrix, who resides in Kansas City, Mo.

The Publishing House of the Church was established by action of the General Conference of 1854 and Nashville was selected as its location, where it has remained to the present day. Now there are three large branches in Dallas, Texas; Richmond, Va.; and San Francisco, Cal. It is at the central plant at Nashville, Tenn., that the Christian Advocate, the Methodist Quarterly Review, the Epworth Era, Sunday School literature and all the printing of the church is done.

The Boards of the Church outside of those which have to do with the spiritual development of the membership, have made possible many things. The Board of Church Extension was organized in 1882. The first contribution to the Loan Fund was $2,740, made in 1883. Since then the Board has aided 10,903 churches and 3,233 parsonages. It has donated $5,264,783 and loaned $3,864,644. Under the management of this Board there is a property protection, or Insurance Department, which was first projected in 1914. This Board has also a department of Architecture, which was created in 1917.

The Hospital Board was brought into being in 1922. The church has in successful operation two magnificent hospitals; the Barnes Hospital at St. Louis and the Wesley Memorial Hospital at Emory University, Ga. Large Methodist Hospitals are being built in Memphis, Dalas, Forth Worth, Houston and Montgomery. There is a small Methodist Hospital at Hattiesburg, Miss., doing an excellent work.

The Methodist Benevolent Association was organized in 1903. Its purpose is to give safe and simple life insurance, disability and annuity benefit protection at cost for the itinerant ministry and membership of the church. The association has not only accumulated present assets of nearly $200,000, but has paid out to widows, orphans and disabled preachers more than a quarter of a million dollars.

The first General Conference of the church was held in May 1 to 23, 1846, Bishop Soule presiding and T. N. Ralston, secretary. To date there have been nineteen sessions of this body and it has grown to where at present there are 41 conferences represented. The General Conference is represented in the Advisory Committee on Near East Relief oby Bishops Cannon, Moore and DuBose; in the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America by Bishops, Moore, Ainsworth, Cannon and Boaz.

Remarkable has been the achievements of the church we feel, like every other Christian body, that the day of the church and its work has not passed, by any means. The Methodist Episcopal Church, South, now has 8,076 preachers, 2,478,623 members. During the year receeding May, 1924, there were 96,203 adults baptized and 33,621 infants baptized. There are 7,485 Epworth Leagues with 254,119 members; 17,570 Sunday Schools with 2,214,883 members; 8,059 Woman's Missionary Societies with 249,416 members; 17,615 houses of worship valued at $116,612,099; 6,073 parsonages valued at $21,677,694; 24 orphanages valued at $4,605,015; 17 hospitals valued at $5,637,652 with an endowment of $2,125,398. The Barnes Hospital in St. Louis is valued at $1,124,481, making it the second largest Hospital in the Church. In the cause of Education the church has not been slack, 113 schools, colleges and universities with 3,415 teachers, and 59,222 pupils with a property valuation of $34,159,256.

One of the outstanding events of the church for the year 1925-26 is the Methodist Young People's Convention to be held in Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 31, 1925 to Jan. 3, 1926. This convention is limited to 5,000 delegates. Special care is being taken in the selection of the personel of this convention. Not every church in Southern Methodism can be represented because of the restrictive clause. The slogan of the Convention is: "Christ Today and Tomorrow." It is an endeavor to get the representative young people of the church in a conference face to face with religious problems as they are today. The Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in Maryville is fortunate indeed in being privileged to have a delegate seated in this convention. Seat and entertainment have already been provided for this delegate, who is Miss Frances Tappe. She will have the privelege of mingling with Southern Methodisms choice young people and of taking part in a convention that will go down in the history of young people as the biggest thing of its kind ever undertaken by a single denomination. The delegates are to be entertained at the Hotel Gayoso and the Sessions of the Convention are to be held in the Municipal Auditorium in Memphis, Tenn.

Why Go To Church?

By Dr. C. C. James, pastor of the First M. E. Church.

It was 11:30 o'clock Saturday night when John Newman came home from the store. It had been an unusual week in many respects. It was one complete story of worry and disappointment. Business had been poor, collections slow, competition mean and keen. He was completely fatigued, mentally, physically and spiritually. He threw himself on the day bed and was telling his wife all about matters, and wound up his statement by saying:

"I am going to stay in bed all day tomorrow and get rested up, ready for next week."

His wife, very wisely, for a few minutes remained silent and then said:

"Yes, John, change is rest. How much will be gained by simply resting body and not the mind? You will lie in bed all day and think over again all the things of the past week, and you will be as tired by Sunday night as you are now. Suppose we plan to give our minds a restful change as well as our bodies. Let us go to Sunday school and church and see whether the results are worth while."

They went to church, caught a new vision of God as the Shepherd of life. The minister declared Christ was an assistant burden bearer. They sang "Jesus Lover of My Soul," and found out there was no other refuge but Christ.

When the end of a day, beautiful in thought and vision, as well as inspiration for the days ahead, came, John said to his wife:

"I believe your advice was good. I know why people go to church. It is the shelter for needy souls, the school to teach us how to live."

Local Church Gives An Offering to Hospital

An offering of $729 was given to the Missouri Methodist Hospital at St. Joseph by the First M. E. Church here. The Sunday school assembled as a unit last Sunday and the Pollyanna class conducted the opening services. It was Church Building Day and the collection was applied on the Sunday school pledge.

The regular services are announced for Sunday. The morning sermon subject is "What Is The Mind of the Church?" and Dr. James will have as his evening subject, "The Measure of God's Love." Miss Gertrude Wray will lead the Epworth League service at 6:30 o'clock. The subject for discussion is "My Debt to My Church." A vocal solo will be given by Miss Stella Pettigrew.

The sermon of Jesus will again be studied at the prayer meeting service at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday night. The sermon at the feast in Jerusalem will be studied next Wednesday.

Causes of Blessings Discussed by Allison

"The Other Side of Thanksgiving" will be the subject of an after-Thanksgiving sermon at the Presbyterian Church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock by the pastor, the Rev. S. P. Allison.

In speaking of this sermon the Rev. Mr. Allison said "The side of Thanksgiving emphasized on the day itself and in our anticipation of it is things received and possessed, blessings, enjoyed, etc. A profitable after-Thanksgiving consideration is the other side, namely what causes our blessings, what can guarantee their continuance, what things might kill Thanksgiving for our children."

Sunday evening the Rev. Mr. Allison will continue his series of sermons of character studies from the Bible entitled "Bible Epitaphs." This is the third of the series.

Luther A. Richman, formerly director of music at the Presbyterian church and visiting over Thanksgiving in Maryville, has been invited by Bernhardt Bronson, present director of music to sing at the morning service. Mr. Richman is not sure wether the condition of his voice will permit him to accept. In case he cannot accept Mr. Bronson will sing "Light," by Stevenson. At the evening service Mr. Bronson will sing "The King of Love" by Gounoud.

Musgrave to Discuss Kinds of Preaching

At the morning service at the First Christian Church Sunday, the Rev. R. E. Musgrave will preach on "What Must I Preach To Be Saved?" The subject of the evening service will be "Gleaners in the Jerusalem Church." The Sunday school services will be held at 9:30 o'clock and the Men's Bible Class meets in the I. O. O. F. hall. The members of the Christian Endeavor will meet at 6:30 o'clock.

Special Music at Harmony Services

Mrs. John Green will sing a solo at the morning services at the Harmony Church Sunday. Special musical numbers were given at the services last Sunday. Thanksgiving services were held at this church last night in connection with the annual bazaar and supper. The Ladies Aid Society of this church will hold its regular business meeting next Thursday.

"Progress and Faith" Is Mitchell's Subject

The Friendship Class of the M. E. Church, South, taught by Mrs. James Hiett, extends a hearty welcome to its meetings at 9:40 o'clock every Sunday morning. At the morning church services at 10:45 o'clock, the pastor, the Rev. R. A. Mitchell, will preach on the subject "Progress and Faith." The choir will sing an anthem "Sing Unto the Lord a New Song," by Carrie B. Adams. The Epworth League will hold its devotional meeting at 6:30 o'clock. The evening gospel service begins at 7:30 o'clock and the subject will be "Advertising your Religion." The public is cordially invited to all services.

Burl. Junct. Bazaar Is Successful One

The receipts at the annual bazaar of the M. E. Church at Burlington Junction amounted to $650. The affair was held last Saturday and was one of the most successful ever held there. The hospital offering last Sunday was $100. Last Monday, the pastor, the Rev. J. Howard Thompson, participated in the unveiling of a soldiers' monument at Unionville.

The union Thanksgiving services at Burlington Junction were held at the M. E. Church there last night. President Coolidge's proclamation was read by Miss Beatrice Boyer and the sermon was preached by the Rev. Alva L. Ragsdale, pastor of the Christian Church. Special music was a feature of the service.

The first quarterly conference will be held at the Burlington Junction church tonight and all regular services will be held Sunday.

Will Honor Father Cummins at Burl. Jct.

(Burlington Junction Post.)

Rev. Patrick Cummins will preside at special solemn services in St. Benedict's Catholic Church next Sunday beginning at 9:00 a. m. His brother, Father Damian is to be Deacon and Father Isadore will be subdeacon. Father Patrick is the first of the three priests ordained from this vicinity. After his ordination he held important positions in Conception Abbey and College. Five years ago he was called to Rome where he had been appointed Rector of the international college of St. Anslem's which position he held until last October, when, to the gratification of his mother, Mrs. Anna Cummins, his relatives and many friends, he was relieved and was again at liberty to return to good old Missouri. Father Patrick will also give the sermon on the said occasion. As the services on this day will be something out of the ordinary, those in charge of St. Benedict's are pleased to give a hand of welcome to everybody.

After the services a reception will be given in honor of Father Patrick at the armory hall in Burlington Junction, where a basket dinner will at the same time be served. At 2:30 Father Patrick will give an address based on Rome and his experiences there. All who bring with them a basket of eats will be welcome on this occasion. A hearty welcome will be given those who find it convenient to come after the dinner hour. Again, a hearty welcome to all.

ARE ALL CHRISTIANS CRAZY?

Comment on the Uniform International Sunday School Lesson for November 29, 1925.

Read Acts 25 and 26

Wm. Southern, Jr.

Christianity was young in A. D. 59. There were men then living who had seen and talked with Jesus, men living who had witnessed His death on the cross.

There were not many Christians churches. The mother church in Jerusalem, the church at Antioch, the churches Paul had established in Asia Minor and in Europe and a few others made up the list. Very little of the New Testament had been written.

But the death of Jesus and the preaching of Paul was known wherever Jews gathered together. Paul was a marked man because he had been educated for high office in the Jewish church and had turned Christian. So it happened that when King Agrippa II, himself a half Jew, and his sister Princess Berenice came to Cesarea to visit Governor Festus and were told that Paul was in prison there, the king at once wanted to see and hear this noted man. Of course Berenice at once declared herself in on the deal and Governor Festus arranged it. These facts made up the setting and brought about the appearance of Paul before King Agrippa, Princess Berenice and Governor Festus, which is the history told in the text today.

Paul had been in prison at Cesarea for two years when Felix was deposed as governor and Festus appointed. Felix never had set a day for trial since that time when, with his stolen wife Drusilla, he trembled at Paul's words. Festus found Paul on his hands and immediately prepared to dispose of the case. He made a visit to Jerusalem and the Jews were told to come down and present their case. They did not want a fair trial before a fair judge and demanded that Paul be brought up to Jerusalem and tried there. Their purpose, Dr. Luke says, was to kill Paul, which they might have an opportunity for doing at Jerusalem, but not at Cesarea. Festus gave Paul a hearing and asked him if he would like to go to Jerusalem for trial and Paul, desperate, made his appeal to Caesar which was, per force, allowed.

Before the appeal had been perfected, Herod Agrippa II, a petty king, and his sister, came to visit Governor Festus. They talked about the situation in the province and Festus told Agrippa about Paul and the king expressed a desire to hear the man.

Paul was brought before Agrippa, Berenice, Festus and probably a large concourse of officials and nobles. Picture the scene. All the pageantry of an oriental despot, the purple robes, the gold and jeweled headdresses, the shining weapons and the pomp and splendor of a court. Standing before them a shabby gentleman, gray haired, worn and beat, with peering eyes and wearing the chains of a prisoner.

Paul's address is a model of argument and oratory. He reviewed the history of the Jews, he reviewed his own life and did not spare himself when he told of his persecutions of the Christians. He told of his vision on the road to Damascus and we shall forever remember his solemn words when he said,

"Wherefore, O king Agrippa, I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision."

Paul then declared his belief in Christ and the resurrection of the dead.

It was at this point that Governor Festus interrupted and said in a loud voice, "Paul, thou art mad, much learning is turning thee mad."

It was also in this hearing that we have the words of Agrippa upon which so many sermons have been based. In the King James version the words are "Almost thou persuadest me to be a Christian." In the revised version the translation given is "With but little persuasion thou wouldst fain make me a Christian."

Then the hearing ended. The king and the governor and Berenice went into the judges' chambers and talked it over. They decided that there was nothing in the charges to justify the holding of Paul and would have released him then and there but for the fact that he had appealed to Caesar. Such an appeal by a Roman citizen stopped all other proceedings and must be granted.

So Paul had made a mistake and by his appeal had prevented his own release. He probably took that view of it, yet through this appeal he went to Rome and while at Rome, a prisoner, he gave us most of the New Testament. What to our dim eyes may seem a mistake, in God's clear light may be a glorious opportunity.

General Lesson Title—Paul Before Agrippa.
Scripture Lesson—Acts 25. 1 to 26. 32. (Acts 26. 19-32 printed.)

20 But declared both to them of Damascus first, and at Jerusalem, and throughout all the country of Judea, and also to the Gentiles, that they should repent and turn to God, doing works worthy of repentance.
21 For this cause the Jews seized me in the temple, and assayed to kill me.
22 Having therefore obtained the help that is from God, I stand unto this day testifying both to small and great, saying nothing but what the prophets and Moses did say should come:
23 How that Christ must suffer, and how that he first by the resurrection of the dead should proclaim light both to the people and to the Gentiles.
24 And as he thus made his defence, Festus saith with a loud voice, Paul, thou art mad; thy much learning is turning thee mad.
25 But Paul saith, I am not mad, most excellent Festus; but speak forth words of truth and soberness.
26 For the king knoweth of these things, unto whom also I speak freely; for I am persuaded that none of these things is hidden from him; for this hath not been done in a corner.
27 King Agrippa, believest thou the prophets? I know that thou believest.
28 And Agrippa said unto Paul with but little persuasion thou wouldest fain make me a Christian.
29 And Paul said, I would to God, that whether with little or with much, not thou only, but also all that hear me this day, might become such as I am, except these bonds.
30 And the king rose up, and the governor, and Bernice, and they that sat with them.
31 And when they had withdrawn, they spake to one another, saying: This man doeth nothing worthy of death or of bonds.
32 And Agrippa said unto Festus, This man might have been set at liberty, if he had not appealed unto Caesar.

Golden Text—I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision.—Acts 26:19.

Festus thought Paul was crazy because he declared that he believed in Jesus and the resurrection. In other words Festus believed that all Christians were crazy.

In these days the older men and women are inclined to believe that the young people, with their mad striving for amusement and pleasure, with their jazz dancing and their wild freedom are crazy. The young people, who view their elders from another standard know that they are crazy. The man in the asylum believes that he is sane and those on the outside are crazy and he is behind locked bars and high walls because he is in a minority.

We are entirely ready to declare a man crazy who sees visions and whose soul reaches to higher spheres than we are capable of understanding. A part of Paul's madness was his vision. To a man like Festus, Paul was crazy.

Which of the four leading actors in this drama were crazy? King Agrippa and Governor Festus and Berenice all have their names in the books of all history because they were participants in the hearing of Paul's defense. But for Paul no one of this day would know they have ever lived and ruled, while Paul, then a prisoner in chains, poor and old, almost feeble, stands out today the brightest star in the gallery of all those great men who interpreted to us the religion of Jesus Christ.

If Paul was crazy, all Christians are crazy and Christianity is but a figment of an imaginary vision and Festus was right.

Are all Christians crazy? I believe that all Christians and all non-Christians will agree that they are not.

Then if all Christians are sane and sensible and have the right of it, what about the sanity of the non-Christians in the world?

ENGLISH BIBLE MADE IN 1525

WILLIAM TYNDALE PUBLISHES HISTORIC VERSION OF BOOK.

OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY

Churches Throughout Country To Have Special Services On December 6—Many Later Versions.

In recognition of the Universal Bible Sunday, December 6, and of 1925, which is the four hundreth anniversary of the first printed English Bible, the Democrat-Forum and Tribune is publishing two articles about the first English Bible. The introductory article follows:

The English Bible is only 400 years old. This seems hard to believe now. The English Bible occupies both now and in the past such a large place in the world's life, literature and history. When persons think of the Bible the "Authorized or King James Version" comes to mind, yet it is only 300 years old; or the "Revised Version," which is but 25 years of age. Prior to 1525 when folks in England wanted to read the Bible they had to read it in Latin and that in manuscript form and not print.

William Tyndale is the man whose work marks the real beginning of the Bible in English. About a century before him Wycliffe had made a partial translation into poetry and in manuscript, but Tyndale made the first prose translation. In 1455 the first printed book was produced, the Mazarin Bible, an edition of the Latin translations made by Jerome and known as the Vulgate. Printing put the cost of the Bible within the reach of more folks, and in sufficient quantities. The story of Tyndale and his version is of years of hard work, sacrifice and finally martyrdom.

Tyndale was born in 1484 in Gloucestershire. In 1512 he was graduated from Oxford as bachelor of arts. He had been a student of the great Greek scholar, Erasmus. In 1453 the fall of Constantinople had driven the classical scholars of the Greeks and Romans westward. This "new learning" or new knowledge of the ancient language meant that students of the Bible could now study it in the original languages in which it was written.

Great numbers of persons today hardly know that the Bible was not composed in English, but the Old Testament in Hebrew and the New Testament in Greek. The bible in every other tongue than these must be a translation. From 400 to 1500 the great versions was the Latin Vulgate, the work of Jerome. Tyndale "was so skilled in seven languages—Hebrew, Greek, Latin, Italian, French, Spanish and English, that whichever he spoke you would suppose it was his native tongue," according to a contemporary.

Thus, with Tyndale two new facts emerge relative to the Bible in English. About a century before Tyndale, Wycliffe had made a metrical translation of the Bible into English, but this was based on the Latin Vulgate, itself a translation. For the first time in the history, Tyndale made his translation direct from the original. For the first time, also, the Bible could be printed.

Tyndale made his translation in a in the hands imn.(K—day of controversy. Latin was the language of the litterati. Scholars accused Tyndale of "casting the pearls of Holy Writ before swine" because he translated into the common tongue of the day. But even such a severe critic as Sir Thomas Moore describes Tyndale as a "man of right good living, studious, and well-learned in Scripture."

This has dealt with Tyndale, the man and his times. The next article will deal with the making of his version, it influence and history.

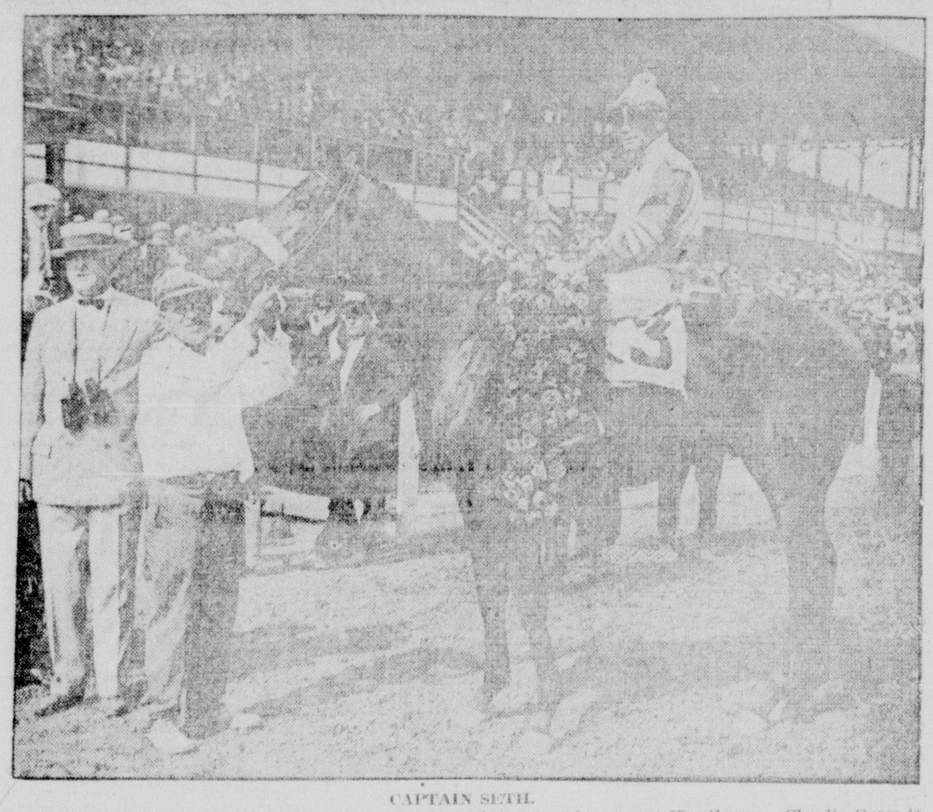
Captain Seth, Winning Race Horse Dies



CAPTAIN SETH.

This picture was taken of Captain Seth after he had won a stake race at Hawthorne. Charlie Gross is in the saddle and his owner, B. A. Jones, stands to the left with field glasses.

It is announced from Fairmount Park St. Louis, that Captain Seth, owned by the B. A. Jones Stock Farm, Parnell, Mo., died Tuesday morning at the track, after an illness that began shortly before the recent meeting closed.

Captain Seth won thirteen races this year, ran second four time and was twice third. This accounts for his nineteen starts as a 2-year-old and shows that in all these races he was never out of the money.

He was by Seth and his dam, Keep Moving, was by Sir Dixon. His owner planned to have Captain Seth succeed his sire as the head of the Nodaway County Farm, where he was bred, and with that in view he has refused numerous large offers for his colt. The largest of these is said to have been $35,000.

Fortunately for Jones and his associates in the ownership of the breeding farm, they have another colt, Major Seth, that is said to be the equal of Captain Seth. He has not been in training for some months but will race at Tijuana, Mexico.

The illness of Captain Seth kept him, also the other horses in the stable from departing for Tijuana, Mexico.

Mr. Jones had planned to enter Captain Seth in the Kentucky Derby.

The above picture of Captain Seth was obtained from the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Perkins furnished the police with descriptions of the men. He said both were about 24 years old and well dressed.

Burlington Junction Legion to Give Play

A home talent musical comedy, "Sweetheart Town," will be given at Burlington Junction Monday and Tuesday nights under the auspices of the Rolla Dicks post of the American Legion.

Lawrence Murphy as the hen-pecked husband and manager of the Sweetheart Town Hotel, and Jean Johnston as his wife are two of the leading characters in the comedy. Mrs. Ralph Wray as their daughter, Mary, is in love with Joe, a country boy, which part is being taken by Robert Barber.

Squire Biglow, the richest man in town, is Bert Monk. The Squire holds a mortgage on Sweetheart Town Hotel and it is this mortgage, coupled with the love affair of Mary and Joe, that forms the basis of the plot of the play.

Beatrice Byers, in the part of Peggy Bigelow, the Squire's daughter, is engaged to marry a man from the city whom she has never seen. The man in question is Charley Jones but owing to a change in trains, a mistaken identy occures and a certain Prof. Lighthead, played by Ralph Wray, is introduced as the fiancee of Peggy. Accompanying the Professor is a valet, Everett Fast, with a color all his own. To further complicate matters, Mrs. Everett Fast, in a character part, that of the Squire's half-sister, falls madly in love with the Professor, whom she believes to be Peggy's fiancee from the city.

An actress is then introduced in the person of Evelyn Moses and the play is on. Mrs. Lawrence Murphy, taking the part of Miss Kaba, appears in the last act and a word from her relieves all complications and permits the play to end as it should and all live happily ever after.

The play is presented before a background of sixteen pretty girls dressed in the latest and most up-to-date costuming that has even been presented here before. The Frederick B. Ingram Productions stage the play and carry the complete costuming and scenery.

STOCKMEN OF NODAWAY COUNTY

Do You Know?—

(1) That the disease known as Necrotic Enteritis, is an intestional disease of swine, which is the curse of the stockman of today.

(2) That this disease can be controlled with the proper mineral feeds; and that any mixture which will successfully handle this most serious form of intestional trouble, should be a boon to stockmen.

(3) That 5 of the leading Serum Plants of Omaha, St. Joseph, and Kansas City, recognize the fact—That the only successful remedy and preventative of this disease of swine, is being manufactured at Elmo, Mo., in Nodaway Co.

(4) That the leading Live Stock Commission Firms, on these markets, are strongly endorsing these mixtures, because they are handling this trouble.

(5) That these mixtures are sold only through reliable Veterinarians, or responsible dealers; and if not satisfactory, you have a come back.

(6) That we have placed 300,000 lbs. of these mixtures among stockmen, during the past 12 mo; and have no High Power Salesmen on the road.

(7) That this business has been gained through satisfied customers.

(8) That our mixtures are as cheap as any on the market; and you can save on the freight. Mfg. in Nodaway County.

(9) That we will help you to solve your swine troubles, if you will call or write us; but we can not make a personal call on each of you, to solicit your business.

(10) Why not try to learn more about your home product; and then use the best?

Closing Grain Review.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—Wheat futures finished showing good gains on the Chicago Board of Trade today. The close, however, was at recessions under the day's peak. Coarse grains were lower.

Profit-selling took the edge of wheat's sensational opening advance. Sellers found ready takers among the converted bears, inspired to cover by bullish Argentine news.

Corn lost ground in late selling.

Oats was a dead issue.

Provisions lost a few points on profit selling.

Wheat Hikes At K. C.

Kansas City, Nov. 27.—Wheat jumped from 3 to 4 cents a bushel today on the local board of trade following similar jumps in the Chicago market. Reports from Argentine indicate damaging weather in that country and are said to be the cause of the hike in the price of grain here.

Hopkins Wins Close Game from Pickering

Hot Combat Is Staged in the Hopkins Gymnasium, Ending With Score of 11 to 8.

Hopkins defeated Pickering by a score of 11-8 in a hotly battled game at the Hopkins gymnasium Tuesday night. Parneli was scheduled to play at this time but was unable to come. The game with Pickering was not secured until the day of the game.

The Pickering line-up included Rickard, McKee, Locke, Swinford and McGinnis. Hopkins had Turner and Pistole at forward, Hanna at center and Baker and Gill at guard.

Hopkins was first to score with a free throw by Turner, who followed it immediately with a field goal. A skirmish for an opening followed, Pickering finally scoring with a free shot. Both teams played a close but fast game from then until the quarter ended with the score, Hopkins 3, Pickering 1. The Hopkins rooters went wild.

Immediately after the start of the second quarter, a free throw and a field goal brought the score in favor of Pickering, 4-3. By successful long shot and free goals, however, the Hopkins boys quickly added six points and held Pickering scoreless for the rest of the period, the half ending: Pickering 4, Hopkins 9.

Both teams began the last half with a war spirit. When either had the ball, the other pounced upon it as if life was at stake. Neither team scored during the quarter except for one free throw each. The third quarter ended: Pickering 5, Hopkins 10.

In the final and decisive quarter, both teams began cautiously and with accurate passing. The first of this quarter was like the third, close and scoreless. Nearing the end, the Pickering boys made a game spurt and, with bewildering passes and good shots, put in a last claim for victory, though unsuccessfully. The rally netted Pickering three points and Hopkins scored one more free goal, the game ending: Hopkins 11, Pickering 8.

McKee and Turner were the outstanding players of their respective teams. Turner scored 10 of the 11 points for Hopkins. Locke and Lett also played well for Pickering.

Pickering seemed unlucky on many shots which should have counted.

Some of the Pickering rooters complained of the refereeing and of unnecessary roughness on the part of the Hopkins team, but for the most part there was exceptionally good sportsmanship throughout the entire game.

The victors gave much of the credit to the Hopkins rooters, who held a pep meeting immediately upon hearing of the scheduling of the game with their old rivals.
